

RAILROADS BUILD PALACE AUTO CAR

Union Pacific Has Huge Steel Machine.

USED IN TOURING THE WEST

May Revolutionize Interurban Travel.
Can Make Forty Miles an Hour.

The apparent craze of autoists to build palace touring cars for pleasure trips has caused railroad corporations to dabble in the novelty of motor vehicle transportation. Some of the unique cars that patents have been applied for are freak products.

A car that resembles a huge steel battering ram has been completed at the shops of the Union Pacific railroad, at Omaha, Neb. It is a big steel structure especially designed for climbing grades. On its trial trip it developed a speed of forty miles an hour, climbing, it is said, a grade of 20 per cent.

Railroad officials witnessing the machine's trial trip expressed much gratification. Some of the officials go even so far as to predict that it will ultimately mean the revolutionization of interurban railroad transportation.

Scheme of Ventilation.
This machine has several new arrangements, the most conspicuous of which is the ventilation of the cars. The windows are round, similar to port holes on steamships, and are air, water and dust proof. The cars have entrance in the middle instead of at the end.

The new method of ventilation fairly well avoids the close and sometimes foul atmospheric conditions so often encountered in electric and other transportation cars, sufficiently so as to predict complete success in this direction. The vibration and noise of the engine were largely eliminated and mechanism of the car worked splendidly on this trial run. Each car will accommodate sixty passengers with comfort. They have every modern convenience, and will be devoted especially to touring parties throughout the West. The cars will be run either separately or in trains. In the latter case one car can easily be fitted up as a combination observation dining car. Later on equipments for transforming the cars into palace sleepers will be installed.

man for the Club Saturday Night.

"The Old Boys" Republican Club held a business meeting in the parlors of the Riggs House last night and completed arrangements for attending the banquet of the League of Republican Clubs Saturday night at Masonic Temple, Gen. E. M. Marble, president of the local organization, presided.

At a banquet he will tell the "youngsters" how the "old boys" whooped it up for Fremont and for Lincoln and how their work in the early days has borne fruit in the splendid organization of the Republican party of today.

John B. Chase and William S. Odell were unanimously elected delegates to represent the "Old Boys" at the meeting of the executive committee of the League of Republican Clubs tonight, to complete the arrangements for the banquet Saturday night.

Dr. Robert Reyburn, national vice president of the Old Boys' Club, said all the members of the "Old Boys" who voted for Fremont or Lincoln were looking forward to the coming golden jubilee, or fiftieth anniversary of the nomination of Fremont and Dayton, which is to be held in Philadelphia, June 11, 18, and 19.
